

Minecraft Halloween Madness

Week 1

The Beginning.

Danger lurks everywhere, but everybody thinks the world is an innocent place. All that changes when 5 kids and 1 teenager enter a world in Minecraft where everything is scary, and there is no way to escape until they form a plan. They only have 31 days including Halloween. Will they survive?

A friend group was walking around reading Harry Potter books. While on a stroll in the park, suddenly a creepy group of zombies came, grabbed the group, and teleported them into the Minecraft world.

They were walking and found a Haunted house:

They entered the house hoping to find someone that could help them get home. When the group entered, there was a sign that said, "There is only 31 days to escape! If you do not escape, you will be stuck here forever and there will be monsters to attack your presence."

When the door opened, they saw a vampire that yelled, "We want to dance!" Everybody heard the noise and started tap-dancing, except Aile, the youngest of the group. The tap-dancing curse didn't affect her because she had earplugs on, so everybody else tried putting on earplugs, but it did not work! The only way for Aile to save her friends was to solve a riddle.

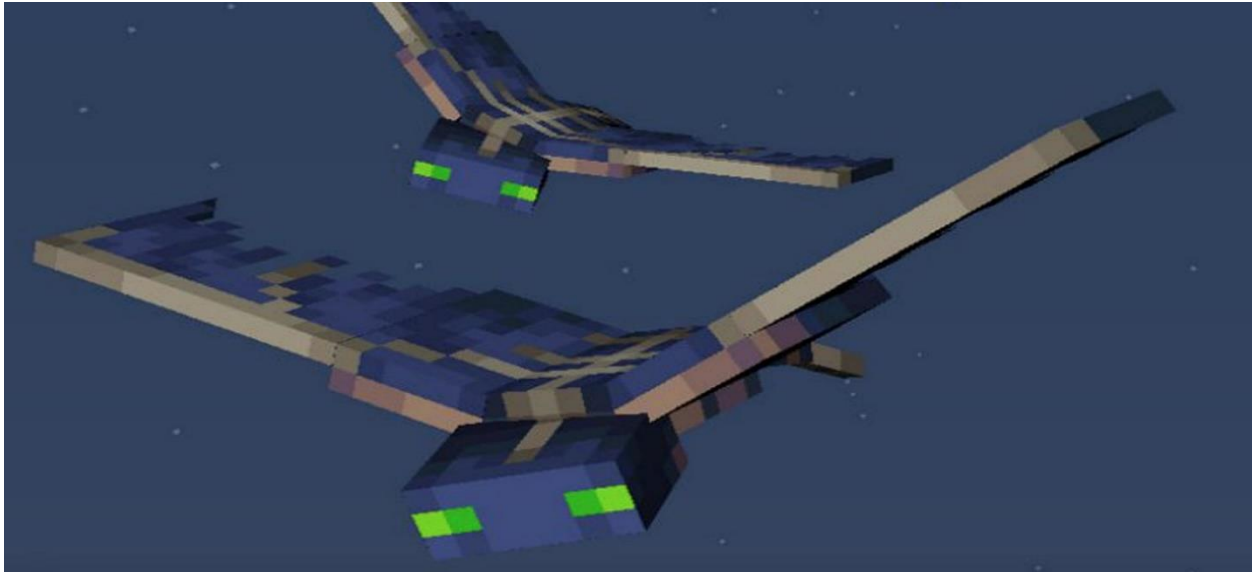

The vampire said, "What can jump higher than a building?"

Aile thought and thought until she noticed that a building could not jump at all! She said, "Everything can jump higher than a building! A building can't jump at all!" The curse broke, and everyone stopped dancing. The vampire whined and groaned in dismay as they moved onto the next room. It didn't look like a room, but instead, it looked like a spooky, scary, weird, and creepy forest.

They saw a headless horse, but it wasn't a normal headless horse. It was a zombie headless horse centaur! It saw the group and started bolting right up to them! Luckily, Lucia is an equestrian, and she noticed the horse played piano just like her! She carefully approached the horse and thought it shouldn't be that hard since it can't see, but it had a ghost's head! It could see! It took a few days to finally be 1 step away from fully taming the horse, but this was the hardest part! She had to feed the horse a carrot and pat it. After that, she hopped on it and put on reins while the horse started bolting and rearing. She held on through and survived! Then, the horse became her friend. With their new companion, the group was able to travel through the forest. They found an area to rest for the night, they went to sleep, and brushed their teeth while sleeping because they knew how to sleep-brush. When they woke up, they saw phantoms flying around!

Before the group had the chance to scream, they heard a big stomping noise and bigfoot came crashing in and bumped into a chair that was easily destroyed.

They all shook hands with bigfoot, and Jethro calmly whispered to Bigfoot, “We want to help you scare away all the phantoms.” Bigfoot, with Jethro’s help, scared away all the phantoms while the others helped them by blocking the phantoms’ path. Jethro tames Bigfoot, and everybody becomes friends with him too. Then, Bigfoot roared in a pleased and happy sound.

Week 2

The help of the dog and stegosaurus.

With Bigfoot on their side, the group started traveling through the house again. They only had about 24 days left to escape, and they were starting to get nervous that they wouldn’t make it out in time.

As they walked into the next room, nothing was making sense. Jethro looked to his left and screamed, “Watch out!” A bunch of tiny creepers started to chase the group with a reaper, but the kids managed to run away before they were hit by the creepers’ explosions and the reaper’s dangerous gadgets. They sat down for a minute to catch their breath, and they heard barking.

“Was that a dog?” Lucia asked. Theo smiled as he opened his backpack to reveal his dog, Mocha!

“I was going to bring her to show and tell before we got teleported into this Minecraft world,” Theo said. “Luckily, I packed her a bunch of snacks and water.” The group began to explore again, but this time, Mocha led the way. She smelled the scent of her favorite snack and ran towards it. Before anyone could stop her, Mocha took a bite. She instantly grew, and after 30 seconds, she was taller than everyone! It was getting late, so the group found a spot to sleep for the night. Over the next couple of days, Theo helped Mocha gain control of her powers. Now, she could change her size on command!

The door to go into the next room was in their sight, but before they could get closer, giant tarantulas blocked their path. As the group took a closer look, they noticed that the tarantulas had roller skates on! They were slipping and sliding all over the place.

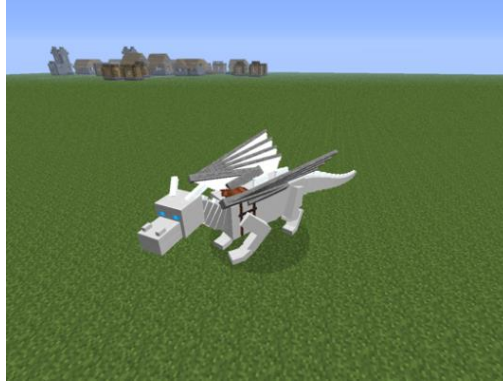

“If they crash into one of us,” Aile said, “it’s not going to be good!” Using Mocha’s newfound powers, the group easily got rid of some of the tarantulas, but there were still three left! Everyone was fighting off the spiders the best they could, but it wasn’t enough. They were starting to lose hope when, suddenly, a stegosaurus slammed into the remaining tarantulas. The hit from the stegosaurus caused the spiders to roll away in every direction.

“Woah!” Aidan said. “That’s the coolest dinosaur I’ve ever seen.” The stegosaurus seemed to understand what Aidan said, and it looked happy. The group reached the door, and even as they left the room, the stegosaurus never left Aidan’s side.

Week 3

Double ghostly fun and triple the defenses.

It was a new week, but everybody felt like just one day had passed since they started their journey! There were only about 17 days left! They decided to explore the house some more, but they heard a whining sound. Aile said, "It sounds like a baby animal that is lost!" They searched the room but could not find anything until they heard a stumble on the floor. A baby ghost dragon bounced into their view because of the ground's shaking tiles and stood right in front of Aile. "It's so cute!" Aile shouted in a cheerful way. Aile gave the baby dragon a carrot, and it smiled very happily. It grew a bit larger while its color turned pearly white. It was as if it had magical superpowers that could let it go from being a ghost to a normal pearly white dragon. After that wonderful event, Aile bonded with the ghost dragon, and it let out a unique call. It summoned its mother! The mother was friends with everybody and agreed to stay here, so that meant Aile could play with the baby dragon! Aile decided to take flight with Charlee while the others mounted on their animals to explore the meadow which was lush and beautiful, but they suddenly fell into a deep dark hole.

They could see nothing and only heard the screams of more animals when they saw 2 milk cats running away frightened while they said, "Hurry! beware!" When the group looked to see what it was, they saw a wild black panther dashing in. They were backing up very quickly, but they met a dead end. No one thought they were going to be able to survive until they somehow saw a light and some shooting stars. It was a unicorn! The unicorn bravely ran up to the panther and defeated it by using its mighty triple horns. The 3 horns wounded the panther by producing shooting stars and fireballs. After the unicorn saved everybody, it went to Charlee and gleamed at her. At the same time, the unicorn was saying that Charlee was a special teenager meaning it was her destiny to ride it. A little while later, she heard him say that his name was Apricot. Charlee smiled at the unicorn, and he smiled back.

Charlee rode the unicorn and said, "I think that is enough for today." Everybody agreed and went back to sleep, but after only 4 hours of sleep, all the animals woke them up showing serious faces. That meant it was time to escape! Everybody agreed since they had a whole army of animals and 2 dragons which are meant to be one of the most powerful creatures! The group started their trek and just as the journey began, they noticed that it was a new week.

Week 4

The grand escape and finale.

They were looking for an exit and found a sign that says, "You have to defeat the Ender Dragon, an army of all the animals that you defeated, and a bunch of ender men to escape." All the kids saw a portal magically start to appear, and they entered it. Then, Mocha ran and made a dirt house for the group to use as shelter, so that everybody could make supplies before they started fighting. They mined for some resources and because of all the mining, they crafted 786 nether swords! And 456 nether pickaxes for extra mining. They also got 362 pairs of nether armor. They had 1,432,122,344,453 chests of food, and everybody thought that this was enough. They went on and approached the army. Everyone yelled their battle cry and ran to fight!

Soon enough, they were face to face with the Ender Dragon, and a noise came from the group that sounded like, "BUM BUM BUMMMMM." The noise was very loud, and it made the Ender Dragon and the entire army look at them. All six of them froze after seeing that every monster they had fought inside of the house was in the army! They called their animals to fight, and everybody hopped on their animals. They kept the mother of Aile's ghost dragon hidden, so when their animals were tired, they could get them to the shelter and all hop onto the mother ghost dragon. Everybody got their shields and swords since they had already put on their nether armor. Even more dramatic music played. The dragon looked at them silently and after a while it swooped down and yelled loudly! After that, the Ender Dragon stood and watched the fight between the immortals and the mortals. Just one minute after the fight started, everything got intense. Bigfoot let out a huge cry after a spider was trying to harm him, but luckily bigfoot was able to get the spider off his neck, and he destroyed the spider. As the battle progressed, the group defeated the army. Or so they thought! Some ender men came running in ready to fight, and one of them almost damaged some of the armor the group was wearing! Charlee's unicorn went dashing and defeated the ender men. Then, the ghost dragon's mother woke up and stood next to her child. When the Ender Dragon saw her, it got mad and started attacking her until she brought out her claws. She damaged the Ender Dragon's entire back. The rest of the animals finished the ender dragon, and they had a victory! A portal appeared, and everyone was teleported back home safely.

When they got back, they all returned home and all their parents said, "WHY DID YOU WANDER OFF AND NOT COME BACK?! YOU ARE GROUNDED!"

The end!
